About the Flu Shot

The Austin Diagnostic Clinic is administering seasonal flu vaccine to people aged 18 years or older (parents should contact their pediatrician regarding the vaccination of children). We do not anticipate a shortage of the flu vaccine.

The 2010-2011 flu vaccine will protect against three different flu viruses: an H3N2 virus, an influenza B virus and the H1N1 virus. The CDC recommends flu shots for everyone.

Where Can I get a Flu Shot?

Flu shots are available for ADC patients and the general public at several locations. If you are an ADC patient and have an appointment with your provider, ask for your flu shot today. If you are not an ADC patient, please proceed to the nearest ADC physician's office and ask to be immunized*.
